

How do I research property or get a copy of a document?

You may come in our office during regular hours and someone will assist you. Please know the name of the person who owns the property or the book and page of the document. You may also search our public records online if the document was recorded from 1986 to the present. If you know the book and page of the document, you may send in a request through the mail. Please note that we can provide only minimal research assistance. An attorney must be consulted in order to conduct a proper title search of real estate.

What form of payment is accepted and what are the recording fees for documents?

Please see our recording fees table for information. Checks should be made out to Pickens County or Pickens County Register of Deeds. We also accept cash.

What documents can I look up at the Register of Deeds office?

The Register of Deeds records deeds, mortgages, powers of attorney, plats, easements, mechanics liens, state and federal tax liens, mortgage satisfactions and other documents pertaining to real estate. We do not have mobile home title information. Mobile home titles can be obtained through the SC Department of Motor Vehicles.

What information do I need before researching a title?

You will need the name of the person who currently owns or previously owned the property or the book and page of the deed. If you only know the address of the property, please refer to the Tax Assessor's website (Click here.) or visit their office for additional information.

Can I look up documents online?

Yes, you may view a scanned image of documents recorded from 2003 to the present. Anything before 2003 can only be reviewed in paper form in our office. We are in the process of scanning documents prior to 2003 to make available on the internet and will update the internet info as we make progress. To search for a document online, click here.
