  - Jim Abbott, from the Salvation Army, discussed an assessment of the current community model in Pickens County, which was performed to determine how the Salvation Army could increase the assistance that they can provide and develop the services that are necessary. Mr. Abbott further presented information from that assessment. He advised that the Salvation Army is in the process of opening up a “warming center”. He clarified that this is not a shelter, but would provide a warm place for people to sleep. Mr. Abbott stated that the model is volunteer-centric.
  - Chairman Roy Costner stated that he liked Mr. Abbott’s the approach of community leadership and having the key organizations come together.
  - Vice Chairman Chris Bowers stated that his opinion is the community model is the correct and only way to address this issue. He stated that while he is not certain how the County would fit in this model, other than being part of the community; he agrees that starting conversations with other organizations to formulate a plan is the right direction.
  - Councilman Ensley Feemster asked Mr. and Mrs. Gantt if they are planning to model their shelter after the Haven of Rest.
-Mr. Gantt responded that their goal is to turn no one away from the shelter.
  - After much more discussion, the Committee directed staff to facilitate a meeting with key organizations in the County to include Mr. and Mrs. Gantt.

Quail Haven Sewer – Log No. 78

- Chairman Roy Costner deferred the Magistrate Compensation discussion to later in the meeting and called on Brian O’Kelley, from the Public Service Commission.
  - Mr. O’Kelley stated that he has researched a request from Senator Rex Rice as it relates to Quail Haven Sewer. He provided a fact sheet to the members of the committee that outlines his research. Mr. O’Kelley recommends adhering to the current county policy that requires an agreement in order for a transfer of ownership to occur.
  - Councilman Trey Whitehurst asked for clarification of the situation.
    - Mr. O’Kelley clarified that he does not know the details of the proposal between two private parties; however, he is aware that the customer base is dissatisfied with the service and the current owner has expressed the inability to perform.
  - Chairman Roy Costner asked Gerald Wilson to further clarify.
    - Mr. Wilson responded that Senator Rex Rice approached Brian O’Kelley, Chairman Roy Costner and himself about this matter. He clarified that the current owner of the system is the Threatt sisters, as the original owner passed away and the sisters inherited the system. Mr. Wilson stated that Condor is contracted with the Threatt sisters to run the system. He advised that the system is dilapidated, that there are several issues to include line issues, cement caving in the roadways, etc. Mr. Wilson clarified the issue is the current ordinance has a provision in place, that if two parties want to sell a system, a surety bond must be in place to protect the customer base of that system. He further clarified that if the owner doesn’t meet the service requirements, there would be funds in an escrow account to protect the customer. Mr. Wilson advised that the request is to waive that requirement in the current ordinance to allow the Threatt sisters to sell the system to Condor, with an estimated cost to repair the system of $1 million. He further advised that the referenced language in the ordinance also pertains to other privately owned systems within Pickens County. Mr. Wilson stated that if an exception is made for one, you may set precedence for all.
  - Councilman Trey Whitehurst asked the County Attorney, Ken Roper, for guidance for those residents that are impacted by this matter.
    - Ken Roper responded that he does not want the referenced individuals to leave this meeting with any change in position based on what Council and/or staff say or do not say. He stated that this matter is between the individuals and the service provider. Mr. Roper stated that he would advise either party to talk to an attorney to determine if they have legal remedies through the court, if they are dissatisfied.
  - After much discussion, Councilman Trey Whitehurst stated that the referenced recommendation in the ordinance protects the residents of the referenced subdivision.
  - Gerald Wilson stated that he would reach out to ACOG to determine what may be available for private systems. He stated that Mr. O’Kelley would reach out to the state to determine what can or cannot be done. Mr. Wilson stated that they would explain to Mr. Rice why this is not in the best interest at this point in time for the County or the referenced residents. He also recommended the residents to reach out to Mr. O’Kelley.
